PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—The police chief of this resort city, faced with handling 25,000 vacationing college students, came under fire today from a business leader.

George W. Gill Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, told city commissioners there was "no excuse for Tuesday night's mass arrest" of students.

More than 100 youths were arrested as police moved to clear out the Fort Lauderdale beach area, the scene of students disorders.

"You can't chase these students out of town by illegal means," Gill told the commission which met in an emergency session to consider ways to handle the mass of Easter vacationists, who annually bring an estimated million dollars in business into town.

After his remarks, commissioners sent for Chief J. Lester Holt. Scores of unkempt and scantily clad students were sentenced to jail or fined following efforts of police to prevent further rioting.

Two judges operating at top speed gave 46 students a choice of either three days in jail or a $50 fine. More were lined up awaiting court appearances.

Some 25,000 students, in Fort Lauderdale for spring vacations, rioted after police imposed a night-time ban on beer and waterfront necking.

The students were clean shaven but appeared in court in wrinkled clothes and bathing trunks. Many were barefoot.

A monumental traffic jam occurred Tuesday night on U.S. A1A, flanking the Atlantic Ocean, as police used blockades to prevent rioting.

Police said the 100 arrests were the result of their crackdown on students who didn't keep moving when requested or "gave backtalk to us."

Students complained in court about police tactics. And ocean resort owners expressed disapproval too, saying restriction of the students was stifling business.

4-H Members Get Quality Chickens

The Hempstead County 4-H poultry chain placed 600 high quality pullet chicks with 4-H Club members last week. Calvin Caldwell, County Agent, announced today. They will grow out these pullets as their 4-H poultry project for 1961 and return 12 pullets this fall to the 4-H poultry show. After the show, the pullets will be auctioned off and the money received will be used to purchase baby chicks next year for the 4-H poultry chain.

This 4-H poultry chain program was started in Hempstead County by money provided by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation to purchase the first chicks. The Foundation provides $90.00 in prize money each year the program is carried on in the county.

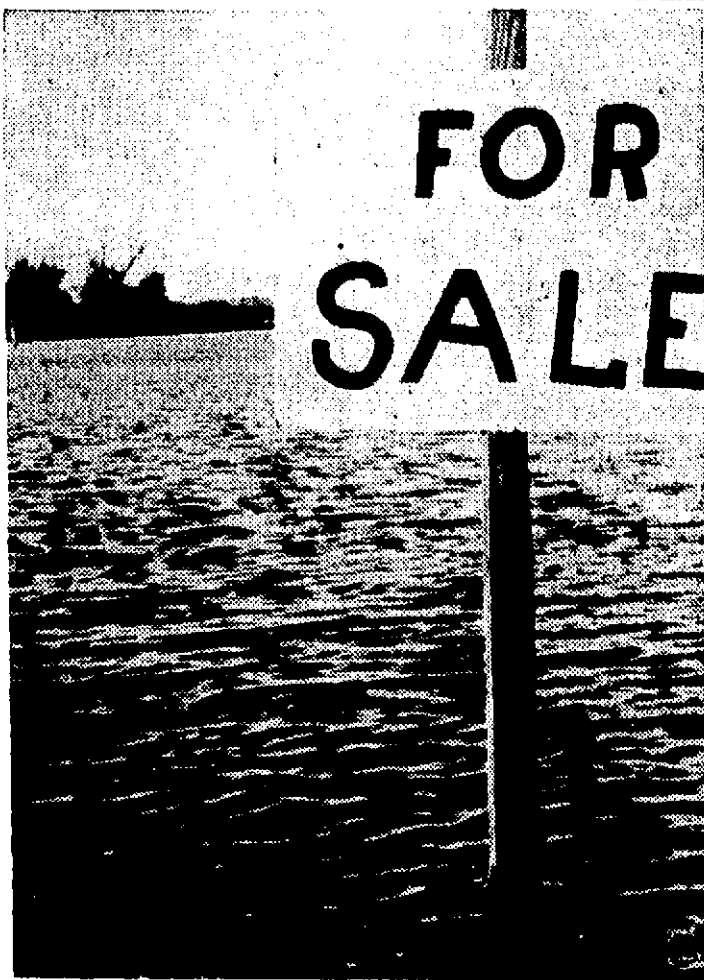

The program is designed to teach the club members good management principles in poultry and egg production. The Extension Agents will visit the club members regularly to advise them on brooding and rearing their pullets. Another objective is to reduce the cost of producing eggs for the family through the use of better quality laying flocks. Many pullets do not realize the cost of keeping a flock of low producing hens.

The club members agree to follow the Agricultural Extension Service recommendations in growing out their pullets. When the birds are approximately 22 weeks old, each youngster selects 12 of his best pullets and brings them in for the show. At the show, the pullets are judged and awarded a blue, red, or white ribbon, depending on the quality of the bird. The show is an excellent opportunity for the club members and other interested poultry producers to observe the different management and feeding programs.

Titian Makes 800-Mile Test Run

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A successful 5,000-mile test flight of an operational prototype of the Titan missile has moved the big intercontinental-range weapon a step closer to combat-readiness.

The 98-foot bullet-shaped rocket struck a target in the Atlantic Tuesday night after a 30-minute, 17,000-mile-an-hour flight. The Air Force reported all test objectives were met.

Earlier in the day, a Mace-B guided missile lost power a few seconds after launch, crashed and exploded on an isolated tip of the Cape. The swept-wing rocket was taking off on the start of an 800-mile test.

Coca Cola L. R. Strike Is Settled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Coca-Cola Bottling Co. here and Teamsters Local 878 have composed differences growing out of a two-week strike last fall.

As a result, a hearing which had been scheduled for Thursday before an examiner for the National Labor Relations Board has been cancelled.

Union attorney James E. Youngdahl said the company had agreed to reinstate all employees not already working whose jobs had not been affected by a seasonal slowdown in business.

In addition the 56 workers not rehired already will receive a substantial amount of back pay, Youngdahl said.

The strike of route salesmen, helpers and production employees arose from a dispute over union recognition. Youngdahl said an election to determine whether employees want to be represented by the Teamsters will be held in about two months.

Bulletin

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau today issued the following severe weather forecast for extreme southern Arkansas, northwestern Louisiana and northern Texas:

"Scattered severe thunderstorms are expected this afternoon in an area along and 60 miles either side of a line from Tyler, Tex., to 40 miles northeast of Monroe, La., during the period from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. Large hail and damaging surface winds are expected in most intense thunderstorms.

The Weather Bureau said this covers an area in Arkansas roughly south of a line from Camden to Texarkana.

A school official said 12 youngsters were robbed of small change at Sequah Junior High School last Sept. 28.

State Storm Is Worst in Camden Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A heavy thunderstorm accompanied by marble-sized hail caused flash flooding in Camden early today and the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a crest on the Ouachita River at Camden above flood stage.

Heavy rains also lashed other parts of south Arkansas, which was under a severe weather alert most of Tuesday night. The warning expired early today without any reports of major damage.

Water six to eight inches deep covered streets in the southern and western sections of Camden after the early-morning storm. Lightning started fires in two houses, but there were no injuries. Police said the water receded rapidly and there were no reports of houses damaged from the runoff.

Camden recorded 1.73 inches of rain in about two and a half hours. Texarkana and Pine Bluff had more than 1 1/2 inches of rain and Bagnall and Des Arc had more than an inch.

The Weather Bureau said the Ouachita River at Camden should crest at 26 to 28 feet on Saturday. Flood stage is 26 feet.

Even at two feet above flood stage the river is not expected to cause any serious flooding. The Ouachita at Camden rose 5.9 feet overnight to 24.3 feet, but it began falling upstream at Arkadelphia, where heavy rains brought a 7.7 foot rise Tuesday. The river dropped 2.6 feet at Arkadelphia.

Other rivers except the White are well below flood stage. At Clarendon and St. Charles the White has been slightly above flood stage for about a week and is expected to remain at that level for a few days.

Camden police said lightning today's storm started a fire which heavily damaged the Doyle Hunt home. Another fire started by lightning at the home of F. L. Thompson caused less serious damage.

Widow in Fatal Shooting Paroled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Anna L. Kellett, 34, found guilty of involuntary manslaughter in the shooting of her husband, Dr. Mack A. Kellett, 40, formerly of Paragould, Ark., Tuesday was placed on two years probation.

Mrs. Kellett contended she accidentally shot her husband while struggling with him for a pistol.

District of Columbia Is Given Vote

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas House today ratified the 23rd Amendment to the Constitution, giving citizens of the District of Columbia the right to vote in presidential elections. This makes Kansas the 38th state to ratify the amendment, and is the last needed.

Passage by the House on a vote of 88-0 completed action on the amendment by the Kansas Legislature. The Senate had passed it previously.

Kansas thus got the honor of being the state which made the amendment effective. Ratification by 38 states was required.

Earlier today the New Hampshire Legislature became the 37th state to ratify.

There had been some jockeying the past few days between the Texas, Ohio and Kansas legislatures as to which would be the 38th state.

Employers to Pay Out More Than Benefits

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas employers will pay out about $1 million more than the state will get from a new federal unemployment program, but Employment Security Administrator J. L. Bland says it is worth it.

Bland said Tuesday that Arkansas employers would have to pay about $6 million in tax whether Arkansas residents got any additional benefits or not under the program to extend jobless benefits.

Arkansas stands to get about $5 million in benefits from this program.

Bland said that Arkansas actually won't be out that $1 million. He noted that about 6,000 Arkansas residents will get extended benefits from other states. He said these are persons who lost their jobs in other states and returned to Arkansas, but get benefits from the other state. These benefits will total more than $1 million, he said.

The new program, to begin April 10, will provide additional benefits to persons who have used up their 26 weeks of unemployment compensation. Benefits for the extra 13 weeks will range from $10 to $30 a week.

Bland estimated that 27,000 Arkansans will be eligible for the extended benefits before the program expires March 31, 1962. The state participated in a similar program during the 1958 recession.

Arkansas isn't alone in paying out more than it will get, Bland said. He said 40 states technically will pay more than they receive, but that, like Arkansas, many of these have residents drawing benefits from high unemployment areas.

The unemployment tax is scaled on a company's employment record. The minimum is one tenth of one per cent for firms with a stable work force. As turnover goes up, so does the tax.

Child Dies in Doll-House Fall

CHILI, N. Y. (AP)—Donna Marie Meister, 8, was injured fatally Tuesday when she apparently fell while climbing a 9-foot doll house in the yard of her home.

Other rivers except the White are well below flood stage. At Clarendon and St. Charles the White has been slightly above flood stage for about a week and is expected to remain at that level for a few days.

Dog, Tear Gas and Police End Sit-in

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A snarling police dog and a tear gas bomb stopped Negro students from parading in support of arrested sit-in demonstrators at Jackson, Miss.

"Police state tactics" were charged by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in protesting the use of city policemen to surround the Jackson State College Tuesday.

The developments followed Mississippi's first sit-in, when nine students from another Negro college were jailed for demanding service at the white city library.

Several Negro students were clubbed by policemen, the NAACP charged.

A Mississippi legislator, Rep. Philip D. Brant, blamed the sit-in on the segregation-minded State Sovereignty Commission, which he said sends speakers North to "tell their audiences glowing tales of racial harmony. The best way to handle segregation is to keep our mouths shut."

In Washington, Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall said he meant business when he told the Washington Redskins' football team to hire players without regard to race. The next move, he said, is up to owner George Preston Marshall, whose Redskins signed a 30-year contract to play in a new stadium being built on land leased from the National Park Service.

Four Negroes, arrested for theater stand-in demonstrations at Chattanooga, Tenn., refused bail and chose to stay in jail.

New Jersey's Civil War Centennial Commission, which has a Negro member, decided to attend the national commission's assembly next month after the site of the meeting was changed from a segregated hotel to Charleston's U.S. naval base.

Secretary Ted Lamb of the Little Rock School Board warned that unless the board speeds up desegregation, federal courts will force complete integration of the city's schools.

He pointed out that there are only seven Negroes in Little Rock's Central High School compared with nine in 1959.

A federal Court of Appeals has ruled that Little Rock integration must be extended to junior high school.

Suspect Held in Death of Arkansan

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES.

N.M. (AP)—FBI agents arrested Oscar Alton Kernohan Jr., 33, wanted for questioning in two murders in a motel here Tuesday night.

"Only weapon agents could find was a hunting knife."

Kernohan was charged with murder Feb. 28 in the shooting of Norman Cox, 21, of Benton, Ark. Cox's decomposed body was found in a culvert near Pecos, Tex., Feb. 25.

Sheriff A. B. Nail, of Reeves County, Tex., said Cox was hitchhiking from California, where he had been visiting relatives, to Arkansas.

In a car wreck at Van Horn, Tex., on Dec. 20, police said Kernohan used Cox's identification.

Kernohan is also wanted for questioning in the murder of William Ross Leonard, 28, of Dardanelle, Ark. Leonard's body was found near Nickel Creek Station, Feb. 17. Nickel Creek Station is near Van Horn.

Kernohan's wife, Jo Ann, 37, and stepson, Roger, 24, mysteriously disappeared from their San Antonio home on Dec. 19.

Nail said San Antonio detectives told him Kernohan, his wife and stepson left home the night of Dec. 18.

The wife and stepson haven't been seen since.

Officers found in his car, abandoned by him in Van Horn, a wallet belonging to Cox, a rifle, a brassiere stained with blood, and a dress. The wallet belonged to Cox and it was believed the brassiere and dress belonged to Kernohan's wife.

Water Test Station for State Near

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., suggested Tuesday that Arkansas be the site of a proposed soil and water conservation field station for the lower Mississippi Valley.

In a letter to Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of a Senate agriculture appropriations subcommittee, Fulbright asked that Arkansas be considered as a desirable site for the station.

The Department of Agriculture has suggested Stoneville, Miss., as the site. The cost is estimated at $600,000.

Fulbright said Arkansas has 1 million acres irrigated last year but has a potential of 4 million acres.

The University of Arkansas has agreed to cooperate in carrying out the proposed project, Fulbright wrote, adding that the state has 10 million acres of the type of soil that would be studied under the program.

Fulbright said a fish farming experiment station now operating in Arkansas would also develop information to supplement the work of the proposed field station.

Ice Capades Fine Show at Little Rock

Members of the Star staff who saw the 1961 Ice Capades Tuesday night agree that the production is wonderful entertainment for every member of the family and well worth a trip to Little Rock even in a downpour of rain.

Every number is spectacular with complete set changes, beautiful glittering costumes, and graceful skaters whirling beneath the colored spotlights. The two-one-half hour show moves along at a rapid pace and every act is exciting.

Included on the program are segments of four operas, "Tosca," "Martha," "Aida" and "Rigoletto," a number of folk dances of other lands with the performers wearing native dress, and a special act for children featuring Mother Goose characters "The Shaggy Dog" and "The Chipmunks." Special numbers by the stars are especially thrilling.

Ice Capades' last performance during this engagement at the Barton Coliseum will be Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

FFA Rodeo to Be Held April 8

The Future Farmers of America are making plans for its annual rodeo here April 8, at 8 p.m. in the Third District Livestock Show Coliseum.

FFA boys from Hope and surrounding areas are entered in the various events which include riding, barrel racing, pig chase, barrel race and double midgets.

Tickets are available from any FFA member or may be purchased at the gate. Profits from the rodeo will go to the father-son banquet to be held in May.

SEATO Word on Laos Is Disappointing

By JOHN RODERICK

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Apparently swayed by anticipations of Soviet peace moves, the SEATO foreign ministers today adopted a compromise resolution that failed to spell out what the alliance will do if the Communists continue their military drive in Laos.

The eight-nation council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization unanimously declared that if the British proposal for a cease-fire and peace negotiations fails "and there continues to be an active (Communist) military attempt to obtain control of Laos, members of SEATO are prepared within the terms of the treaty, to take whatever action may be appropriate in the circumstances."

The resolution appeared to represent a defeat for the American effort to put over a tough declaration that would warn the Soviet Union that SEATO troops would fight if peace negotiations fail.

The compromise apparently resulted from the sharp opposition of French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, who argued in the closed sessions that the proposed American draft would antagonize the Soviets while there was a prospect they would accept the Western proposals for a cease-fire in Laos.

Couve de Murville told newsmen he was "very pleased" with the resolution.

Although a U.S. spokesman said "we consider it a strong resolution," U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a subsequent news conference did nothing to dispel the prevalent belief that the American delegation was disappointed.

Rusk said that Southeast Asia is threatened and "we shall meet these threats." He said "the resolution is unanimous and this means all members." But he refused to answer all questions about the possibility or likelihood of SEATO military action in Laos, saying, "I don't think it is wise or prudent to get into questions like these at this stage."

Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand told his news conference that SEATO is waiting for the Soviet reply to the cease-fire proposal and that no action of any sort will be considered until the reply is received and studied.

Washington (AP)—Indian diplomatic sources reported today the Soviet Union is now consulting Communist China on the question of a cease-fire in Laos.

The sources indicated the prospects are about even for a satisfactory political settlement to be reached between the West and the Communist bloc over the neutralization of Laos.

U.S. officials consider that Communist China has taken an inflexible line toward a continuation of the fighting in Laos.

Allied diplomats who attended briefings at the State Department reported that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko promised President Kennedy on Monday he would relay the results of his talks promptly to Moscow and expected to answer within a few days.

Allied diplomats considered the resolution adopted by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization council of ministers at Bangkok carried enough teeth to be effective in the event the Soviet Union stalled on an answer.

The resolution declared the SEATO powers would take "appropriate action" unless the Communist bloc ends military intervention in Laos.

It was also reported here that when hostilities are still underway in Laos, the fighting is not as intense a scale as in recent weeks.

Fee in Each District, Holt Rules

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Candidates for 6th District congressman should pay a $10 filing fee in each of the district's 13 counties to make sure they have complied with the law. Atty. Gen.
Frank Holt ruled today.

Ground rules for the April 18
special election to choose a successor to the late Rep. W. F.
Norrell of Monticello were laid down by Holt in an eight page opinion written at the request of Secretary of State Nancy Hall.

A conflict between 1891 and 1895
statutes covering payment of filing fees points up a need for revision of the state's election laws, Holt said.

The 1891 law requires payment of fees in the several counties. The 1895 act seems to permit payment of one fee of $100 in the present case to the state treasurer.

Both laws provide for distribution of the money to county general funds.

Norrell, who had served the district since 1939, died Feb. 15.
Holt repeated some points he had already set out in previous opinions on individual phases of the election.

He said the filing deadline is midnight April 8 and added that county election commissions should furnish ballots to sheriffs at least three days before the election.

Candidates can qualify by filing petitions bearing at least 50 and not more than 1,000 names with the secretary of state, Holt said.
Since candidates will not be nominated at a party convention, all must run as independents. The law does not require filing of a corrupt practices pledge, Holt added.

Holt said it was possible the courts would hold payment of a filing fee to the state treasurer would qualify a candidate.

"But I'd hate to see a candidate ruled out on a technicality," he said.

Mrs. Rand Wins Change of Venue

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Defense attorneys for Mrs. Virginia Rand, 40, who is charged with the bedroom shooting of a Rogers restaurant owner, have won another legal victory.

Monday, they succeeded in an attempt to get a change of venue for Mrs. Rand's second murder trial. She was convicted of second degree murder the first time, and sentenced to seven years in prison, but the Arkansas Supreme Court overturned the decision.

The second trial will be held in Washington Circuit Court in Fayetteville April 10. Judge Maupin Cummings, who presided at the first trial, also will sit for this one. Cummings' district includes both Washington and Benton counties.

The second trial was scheduled to begin here Monday.

All three of Mrs. Rand's defense attorneys took the stand at a hearing and one of them Jeff Duty of Rogers, said he had received anonymous telephone warnings that his law practice would suffer as a result of his handling of the Rand case.

The Rand attorneys said their client could not get a fair trial in Benton County because residents already had made up their minds about the case.

Mrs. Rand was convicted in the fatal shooting in August, 1959, of Harry V. (Buddy) Clark. The Supreme Court, in reviewing the case, said inadmissible and prejudicial evidence has been allowed in the trial.

Mrs. Rand's attorneys last week asked to have the case tried in U.S. District Court, Judge John E.
Miller wrote an opinion remanding
the case to Circuit Court, and it was this decision that Cummings quoted in allowing the trial to be moved to Fayetteville.

The state charged in the first trial that Mrs. Rand shot Clark when he tried to break off a love affair. The defense contended he invaded her bedroom while her husband was away.

Ten defense witnesses and two for the state testified in the hearing Monday.

Don Garrison, city editor of the Rogers Daily News, testified as to news articles about the sensational case. The Rand lawyers contended in their change of venue petition that community opinion was inflamed against Mrs. Rand.

Famed Light on Lawrence Out

OGDENSBURG, N. Y. (AP) —
The local lighthouse, after guiding traffic on the St. Lawrence River for 150 years, has become obsolete and even may cause ships not familiar with the river to run aground, the Coast Guard says. Buoys have taken the place of the lighthouse, whose light will be extinguished permanently June

Mrs. Loy Rodgers began the meeting with an eye opener, "Polish Up Your Posture," after which Mrs. R. G. Shuffield conducted the Devotional. Her theme was "Gardening Time" and the Scripture reading was taken from Gen. 9:20. Everyone then joined in singing "To The Work." Prayer

COMING FOR EASTER TO SAENGER HOPE

School Fuss Brings a Public Meet

DE WITT, Ark. (AP)—The De Witt School Board's dismissal of four faculty members led Monday night to a public meeting at which the action was both criticized and defended.

Despite the spirited meeting, it wasn't disclosed publicly why the employees were dropped.

The board did not renew the contracts of Dale Counce and James Mitchell, assistant athletic coaches, or of Mrs. Reba Lorick and Mrs. Sam Cook, teachers.

Mrs. Cook is the wife of Coach Sam Cook, a well known figure in Arkansas athletics.

Dr. John M. Hestir, an unsuccessful candidate for the five-member school board at the last election, and other critics charged that failure to hire Mrs. Cook was aimed at forcing Cook to resign.

Harold L. Stephenson, the board secretary, denied that the action was directed against Cook. He said if it had been the board would have dropped Cook himself.

Board President Elmer Ferguson said board actions were all in the interest of the 1,600 students in the De Witt School District.

He didn't say why the faculty members had been dropped and after the meeting declined to comment on this point or to discuss possible future moves by the board.

The audience, which apparently contained more board critics than sympathizers, took a standing vote calling for the "retirement" of Supt. R. H. Brotherton, who didn't attend the meeting.

was offered by Mrs. Shuffield.

Roll call was answered by each member saying "How I can improve my appearance." The President, Mrs. Shuffield, led the group in a short business session. Discussion was held about observing National HDG Week in May.

Mrs. Leon Prescott then gave an interesting demonstration on Shape Insurance. The meeting was then adjourned after which the hostess served cookies and iced drinks to the members. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Loy Rodgers on April 20th.

Hope Junior Auxiliary Meets In Community Room

A very important meeting of the Hope Junior Auxiliary took place Wednesday morning March 22 in the Community Room of the First National Bank. Officers are slated to be elected, and new projects chosen.

Reports of the achievements of the last year have been sent to headquarters of the National Association of Junior Auxiliaries. They will be exhibited at the National Convention which will be held in the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi, Miss., on May 4 and 5.

The current project, directed by Mrs. E. P. Young Jr. is the testing of eyes at Garland School. Plans to enlarge the visitation program to Hope Nursing Home and the Branch Annex were announced by the chairman, Mrs. Forney Holt.

The president, Mrs. George Robison announced that the Thrift Shop is proving satisfactory in its new location on Second St.

May and December

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 20 and madly in love with a woman who is 35. We want to marry but fear because people keep telling us it won't work, the difference in our ages being so great. We would like to have your opinion as someone who knows love, on whether or not we should wed. —Jerry

Dear Jerry: If you were 10 years older, I would say, take a chance, even though your chances for happiness would still be slim. But at 20, the odds against you are even greater. Take a slow boat to Hong Kong, sign up for a trip to the moon; do anything to keep from making a mistake which could only end in tragedy.

Dear Helen:

I am a secretary in an employment office, a position which gives me the opportunity to meet and befriend many people in all walks of life. I am easy going and often get called upon for extra typing tasks which the other girls won't do. I explain this to give you an idea of my character.

In the 10 years I have been dating, I always wind up with a broken heart. Hazardous travel last winter made it impossible for my latest boy friend to see me as often as he wished. The inevitable happened. He fell for a teen-ager (he's 26) nearer home. I give him credit for telling me. So we wind up just good friends. Am I destined to always be someone's big sister instead of sweetheart? I am approaching 30 and begin to worry. What's wrong? —B.

Dear B.: Nothing's wrong. You just haven't met the right man. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Broken Romances." Stop worrying and go on being your generous understanding, warm-hearted self. Sometime, somewhere you'll meet a man big enough in soul to appreciate your fine qualities and then it will be for keeps.

Dear Helen:

My brother thinks he runs everything, including me, since our Dad died. He is 18, I am nearly 15. He goes through my room taking whatever he pleases. When I ask him to leave my belongings alone he mocks me. Mom does little about this. I am high-strung and get cross easily. As a result I can no longer be pleasant at home, though I get along elsewhere just fine. What can I do to overcome all this trouble? —Tired of Quarrels

Dear Tired of Quarrels: The obvious course would be to padlock your belongings and tell your brother to stop acting like a baby bully. But that's no permanent solution. He would only find other ways to flaunt his power and superiority. Is he still in school? If so, ask your mother to talk with his psychology teacher. If he's quit school, I suggest your mother consult a psychiatrist about your brother. This tendency to bully could be serious in later life. Show her my reply to your letter.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper.

Ministers Ask Speed in Integration

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bi-racial ministerial group's proposal that the community start preparing for a speedup in school integration was hailed by a school board member and denounced by a segregationist group today.

The Greater Little Rock Ministerial Association voted 50-1 Monday to ask the Little Rock School Board and business, civic and religious leaders to begin preparing the community for additional integration under federal court orders.

Ted Lamb, school board secretary who in the past has favored additional desegregation, called the action a "progressive step." He said he was "glad the association is recognizing the problem which is upon us."

The executive board of the National Association for the Advancement of White People issued a statement saying it opposed the resolution "unless the churches... take immediate steps to fully integrate their facilities in order to set a proper Christian example."

The statement added, "Until harmony exists in integrated civic and religious activities we feel that children should not be forced to pioneer such a drastic change in community life."

Lamb said he hoped other groups would support the action of the ministers.

Russell Matson Jr., vice president of the school board, told the ministers that he thought the board had been remiss in its preparation of teachers and students for the changes brought by desegregation in high schools here.

The 8th Circuit Court of Appeals has overturned a District Court decision and ordered the school board to step up integration in high schools and begin junior high desegregation.

The resolution passed by the clergymen asks ministers to "prepare the members of their congregations." It also asks the school board to prepare the teachers and students, the PTA to prepare school patrons, and the Chamber of Commerce and civic clubs to prepare the business and professional community.

"The Ministerial Association is concerned that our local community should be better prepared this fall than we were in 1957-58," the resolution read. In that first year of integration, there were riots at Little Rock Central High School.

The only negative vote was cast by the Rev. Darrell S. Ross, a Baptist minister, who said he thought the resolution might be considered an affront to Matson. Matson said the resolution was no more a criticism of the board than it was the whole community "which has been a little remiss."

Favors Medical Care Under SS

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Assistant State Insurance Commissioner Fannie Hardy said today she believed that medical care for the aged under Social Security would be preferable to having private or commercial companies handle such a program.

She said the matter was discussed at a conference she attended last week at Racine, Wis.

"Insurance companies cannot fix a rate for those old people to give them a medical insurance plan," Miss Hardy said.

"Their welfare money might be all spent on medical insurance and then when they get sick they might discover that their case is not covered by the policy."

Under Social Security, the aged would be placed in a medical facility and cared for regardless of the type or length, she said.

She denied that the Social Security plan would be socialized medicine. She said any person having the means could still consult any physician he wished and added that "as long as you have a choice it's not socialized medicine."

They had found shelter in the cave after their automobile stalled in snowdrifts on Rampart Range Saturday.

The two had suffered somewhat from cold and weariness, but otherwise were in good condition. Dye said they managed to find enough dry wood for a fire, lighting it with a cigarette lighter.

The couple, along with Douglas Richards, 30, had driven on a sightseeing trip to the remote area 15 miles southwest of here.

The three tried Saturday afternoon to walk out of the snowbound area but turned back for shelter in the cave where they spent Saturday night.

Richards struck out alone at dawn Sunday and reached a ranch house about 1:30 p.m.

A helicopter from Lowry Air Force Base dropped sleeping bags, food and hand axes. Airmen said the couple had a large fire burning and waved to them before gathering the dropped supplies.

Pierce Sinks Dodgers for White Sox

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox pitching staff, which cost the club the American League pennant last year according to Manager Al Lopez, is fast erasing the memory of the season's worst finish in 11 years as a major league skipper.

Southpaw Billy Pierce wiped out another hunk Tuesday in a 3-1 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers as he limited the National League to two hits in a six-inning workout and became the fourth White Sox starter in succession to hurl low-hit ball.

Pierce's performance followed similar outings by Early Wynn, Frank Baumann and Herb Score — key members of the mound corps that also includes such proven holdovers as Bob Shaw, Turk Lown and Gerry Staley, along with newcomers Cal McLish and Juan Pizarro.

The pitching must do it for the 1961 pennant-winners, says Lopez, who blames last year's third-place finish on the staff. "We led the league in batting, fielding and stolen bases," says the senior. "So it must have been the pitching."

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have lost ace right-hander Larry Jackson for at least a month with a fractured jaw, got a boost when replacement Al Ciolek combined with Art Kay and Mickey McDermott to shut out Milwaukee 1-0 on four hits.

Pittsburgh right-hander Bob Fricke also turned in an outstanding job as he went the distance, scattering eight hits in a 9-2 triumph over the New York Yankees and gaining a measure of revenge for the two losses he suffered in last year's World Series.

In other games, San Francisco edged Boston 2-1, Minnesota nipped Philadelphia 3-2, Baltimore beat Kansas City 3-1 in 11 innings, Detroit defeated Cincinnati 7-5 and Washington whipped the Reds 5-1. The Cleveland-Los Angeles game was rained out.

Ray Sievers drove in two White Sox runs and that was all Pierce and reliever Russ Kemmerer needed to snap the Dodgers' seven-game winning streak. Jim Gilliam accounted for the Los Angeles run with a single in the seventh.

A single by Hal Smith, an error and Bill White's wind-blown double in the fifth brought across the game's only score as the Cards whipped the Braves with the unearned tally. Carl Wiley and Don McMahon spun a six-hitter for Milwaukee.

Dick Stuart's homer with one aboard and Roberto Clemente's solo shot gave Friend the support he required while becoming the first Pirate pitcher to go the route. Roger Maris homered for the Yankees, mired in the exhibition cellar with a 6-13 record.

Home runs by Bob Schmidt and Felipe Alou backed Sam Jones' three-hit pitching in a seven-inning sting for the Giants' victory over the Red Sox. Harmon Killebrew's one-on-one round tripper in the ninth brought the Twins from behind against the Phils.

Ron Hansen's fourth single drove in the clincher for the Orioles in their extra-inning struggle with the A's. Homers by Steve Boros, Rocky Colavito and Harry Chitt powered the Tigers to their

Schoendienst Full of Fight for Cards

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A fellow asked Red Schoendienst what he was trying to prove. "Is it the money?" the guy asked. "Is it your pride? You're 38. Only two years ago you were in a hospital battling tuberculosis. You haven't played 30 full games in the last two years. You've put 19 years in the game, 16 at top speed in the big leagues. Don't you think you've had it?"

If the freckle-faced veteran, once the finest second baseman in the game, was annoyed by these blunt, searching questions, he gave no sign.

"I feel I haven't had it," he said today. "I think I can still play ball. I may not be able to play every day and I'm not as fast as I used to be, but I know I can help the Cardinals."

"I'm not out to prove anything. I just want to play ball. I made a good living doing it and I'm going to continue doing it as long as I think I can and others think I can be of help."

Schoendienst, a top star with the Cardinals from 1945 to 1956 before he was traded to the Giants, was invited to spring training after he had drawn his release from Milwaukee at the end of the 1960 season. After three weeks, the Cards signed him to a $23,000 contract.

"It's not the money, believe me," said Red. "If that was it, I could have played with the new Los Angeles club for more money. Fred Haney (Angels' general manager) wanted me. Gene Autry (Los Angeles club owner) offered me $45,000. But I wanted to play in St. Louis, my first love and my home."

Dick Stuart's homer with one aboard and Roberto Clemente's solo shot gave Friend the support he required while becoming the first Pirate pitcher to go the route. Roger Maris homered for the Yankees, mired in the exhibition cellar with a 6-13 record.

West Wins Shrine Event From East

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The West, hitting half its shots and dominating the backboards, defeated the East 103-100 in the annual Shrine all star basketball game Tuesday night.

Walt Bellamy, Indiana's 6-foot-10 great, and Kansas' Bill Bridges led the winning attack with 21 points apiece although four other West players carried their share of the scoring. Gary Phillips of Houston scored 20. Tom Meschery of St. Mary's (Calif.) 16. Ced Price of Kansas State 12 and Bill McIntock of California 9.

The West, coached by young Sherrin Scheerhman of Iowa, led 52-51 at the half and there was never more than a 6-point spread in the spectacular shooting contest.

Trailing by 5 points, with little more than a minute remaining, Bob Wiesenbahn of Cincinnati and Larry Siegfried of Ohio each hit for the East to narrow the count to one point. Phillips made two free throws to settle matters.

Tom Stith, St. Bonaventure's great scorer, led the East with 20 points. Siegfried scored 17. Tony Jackson of St. John's hit 7 of 10 long shots in the second half and wound up with 14 points as did Wiesenbahn.

Vicar Guilty of Sexual Misbehavior

LONDON (AP) — A Church of England vicar was convicted today of sexual misbehavior with two women and two young girls of his parish. A Church court ousted him from his position and prohibited him from carrying out any ecclesiastical functions.

He will retain holy orders until Church authorities decide whether to unfrock him.

The vicar, Rev. William Bryan Thomas, 62, was accused of committing adultery with Elsie Brandy, 42, one of his Sunday school teachers.

He also was accused of making improper advances to his curate's wife, Elizabeth Neely, 37, and two girls, aged 13 and 14.

The verdict followed a hearing in an Anglican church consistory court.

Mrs. Brandy testified that she and the vicar—whose wife was aged and ailing—had sexual intercourse 70 or 80 times in the vicarage and the back seat of his car.

The curate's wife declared the vicar bugged and fondled her when she went to his study to obtain some baptismal forms needed by her husband in his parish rounds.

The two teen-aged girls said the Rev. Mr. Thomas grabbed them and ran his hands over their bodies while interviewing them on Sunday school matters in the vicarage.

The vicar denied the charges and accused members of his parish of working with the curate to unseat him.

Lakers Win Without Big Center Man

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five months ago the experts said the Los Angeles Lakers didn't have a good big man at center and couldn't win the National Basketball Association title.

They haven't won it yet, but they need only one more victory over the St. Louis Hawks to clinch the Western Division title — and they still haven't come up with the big man at center.

The Hawks have been, considered extremely tough when the chips are down, but they are at a distinct disadvantage tonight. Their great center, Clyde Lovellette, is out of action with a severe back sprain. He was hurt in Monday night's game, won by the Lakers, who have a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven series.

The winner meets the Boston Celtics, who beat Syracuse, four games to one, in the playoff for the Eastern Division title.

JFK Calls for More Space Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy asked Congress today for a $125.67-million increase in the civilian space budget for the next fiscal year and $30.1 million for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The White House said the proposals had already been figured into the budget as revised by Kennedy and would not affect the current figures for over-all government spending or the prospective deficit for the year starting July 1.

The atomic-space money request followed by only two hours a Kennedy message calling for $390 million in extra cash for defense. That proposal which has boosted planned outlays to a peacetime record $94,259 billion and the expected deficit to $2,826 billion.

The 11.3 per cent increase in funds for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration speeds up by about a year the program for the huge Saturn C2 launch vehicle system which could move the United States ahead of Russia in satellite weight-launching capability.

The additional funds for the AEC would be used mainly to start construction of a new $144-million linear electron accelerator at Stanford University for high energy physics research and to convert the new reactor at Hanford, Wash., to the generation of electricity as a byproduct in the production of plutonium.

Razorbacks Win Against Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The University of Arkansas coasted to victory in the first game of a doubleheader with Tulsa University, Tuesday, winning 9-6, but lost the second 8-2.

In the opener, the Razorbacks banged out a quick 7-0 lead in three and a half innings mainly on the wildness of Tulsa pitcher Tom McKenna.

But Gary Hevelone fanned 11 Arkansas batters in the second game and Danny Porter knocked in three runs in the fourth inning to provide the winning margin.

College Golf Tourney at Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The seventh annual All-America Intercollegiate Golf Tournament starts today with Oklahoma State University expected to give Houston the most serious challenge for the team title.

The 20 teams play 72 holes at Pine Forest Country Club on a 6,710-yard, par 72 course.

Dave Williams, who has coached national champion Houston to five straight NCAA team championships, says the Cowpokes from Stillwater are the team to beat.

Homero Blancas and Richard Crawford of Houston lead the list of favorites to win the individual medal title. Blancas tied with Larry Beck of Houston and Don Essig of Louisiana State for the honor last year.

Crawford has won the NCAA individual title the past two years.

Johansson's Fistic Rating Falls to No. 5

NEW YORK (AP) — Ring magazine today recognized Brazil's Eder Jofre as world bantamweight champion and dropped Sweden's Ingemar Johansson from second to fifth among the heavyweight contenders.

The undefeated Jofre also was named "boxer of the month" for his ninth round technical knockout of Italy's Piero Rolfo in a title bout in Rio De Janeiro last Saturday night. The National Boxing Association had recognized Jofre as champion of the 118-pound class but Ring had rated the Brazilian and France's Alphonse Halimi as even and declared the title vacant.

The dispute arose when Mexico's Jose Beceera retired as champion and left the throne open.

Johansson, knocked out in the sixth round by world champion Floyd Patterson, was demoted below Eddie Machen (No. 2), Portland, Ore., Zora Foley (No. 3) of Chandler, Ariz., and Henry Cooper (No. 4) the British and British Empire champion. Sonny Liston of Philadelphia still is the No. 1 contender.

Church Safe Looted

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Two burglars Sunday night looted a safe in Trinity Episcopal Church in Newton Center of $600 and fled so hastily they scattered currency on the floor and the lawn outside.

Lion Search to Be Resumed

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The search for Johnson County's elusive lion was expected to be resumed today after the 100 dogs in the hunt took a rest yesterday. The dogs roamed 100 miles thorough rough country Sunday and were just too tired to make the scene Monday.

Justin James, president of the Johnson County Fox hunters Association, said the hunters had to spend much of Monday morning rounding up dogs still out from the Sunday search.

About 100 men trailed the dogs with rifles.

The lion has been reported three times in the past week. It is described as having a yellow mane, a long tail, and catlike footprints that Saylor, 2 miles north of four inches wide. When it leaps, its tracks are eight feet apart.

NIGHT MARSHAL

By L. P. Holmes

CHAPTER XXI

In Hogan Geer's Belle Union deadfall it was the opening hour. The barroom was empty except for the bartender and a swamper pushing a broom across a littered floor.

Doors were propped wide to let out the stale and rancid odors of the night before. Bitter ghosts of a hundred dead cigars and pipes, the sweet sour smell of spilled whisky.

A lone barkeep moved up and down, dull and lethargic, his mind cluttered and smothered by lack of sleep and good air. With halting, mechanical effort he wiped down the bar, washed and stacked glasses.

Price Ringgold came in from the street. The suggestion of femininity in this man, occasioned by his pale, hard-staring eyes, his lawlessness of coloring, was heightened by a certain fastidiousness in manner and dress. Even his soft, prowling step held something cat-like.

He went quickly along the length of the room, ignoring both swamper and bartender. He did not knock a tile rear door, just opened it and stepped through. Five men were in the back room ahead of him. Hogan Geer, Breed Garvey and the three Spooner brothers. Garvey gave out with a surly growl.

"You're late. We been waitin' near an hour. I could have used that extra sleep."

Garvey's face was still grotesque from the effects of the pistol whipping administered by Chris Waddell.

"Well, we're all here now," Hogan Geer said. "So let's get about settling several things. First, this Chris Waddell."

Seems Scobie can't handle him, so we'll have to."

"Scobie!" Ringgold spat the name like he might a curse.

"Just so," nodded Geer in his cold, humorless way. "But useful to us because he is useless. He's a front, and don't count beyond that. Which is all we want of the marshal's office. Sure, he made a mistake in bringing in Waddell. He guessed wrong. But so did the rest of us."

Ringgold indicated the Spooners. "There's your chore boys."

Geer shook his head. "It's not quite that simple. Even though Waddell has only been here a few days he's got the whole camp talking about him. He's a tough proposition, that fellow—as tough as they come."

"He's mortal," Ringgold said shortly. "And a shot from the dark!" He shrugged.

"Again, not that simple," Geer said. "A shot, yes—but not from the dark. Anything like that would point straight at the Gulch. Which we can't afford."

Ringgold's pale stare sharpened. "What are you talking about, Geer? What can't the Gulch afford? You turning soft, or something?"

"No. Just smart." Geer leaned back in his chair, gnawed the tip from a cheroot and lit it. Past the first mouthful of smoke he resumed. "In my time I've seen a dozen camps like this one start up, grow, live, and in many cases, die. In all of them, when the first big rush and fever went on. And men like you and me and Breed here, cashed in—big! But the human animal is a peculiar brute. Basically he has an instinct for law and order, and sooner or later that instinct begins to show. This is a pretty rough camp. But there's been rougher ones in the past, and in every one of them there came a time when fellows like you and me and Breed here, moved on. That is, they did if they were smart."

"Or scared?" jeered Ringgold. Geer straightened and his words fell thin and edged.

"That's poor talk, Ringgold. I'm scared any time it's intelligent to be scared. Any marks of your teeth in Waddell's hide? You had your chance to put some there last night."

Ringgold flushed. "All right. You're not scared. You're just being smart. This law and order talk—there's something behind it. Let's have it."

Mollified, Hogan Geer settled back in his chair again. "It takes time for any camp to find itself. But one day some man comes along to bring that instinct for law and order into focus and to provide a rallying point. This fellow Waddell could be just such a man."

"All the more reason to get rid of him then," said Ringgold. "I go along with you there," Geer agreed. "But it mustn't happen on Ute Street. If possible, not even near Ute Street."

"Why not?" Hogan Geer made a gesture of impatience.

"I just told you. The law and order instinct is beginning to rumble in this camp. Not loud as yet, but you can hear it. It's like a charge of dynamite, harmless until something comes along to set it off. Maybe it never does explode, but it's smart to remember that the ingredients are always there."

Paragraph 13: Distribution in towns receiving 25 or more copies in detail by counties, as well as the total only for towns receiving less than 25 copies daily.

Evening, December 13, 1960

The listing below gives gross distribution for one day only and is greater or less than the net paid average for the period covered by this report by the following percentages:

City Zone	0.75% less
Retail Trading Zone	0.61% less
All Other	7.86% greater
GRAND TOTAL	0.36% less

The "adjusted figures" of county totals appearing below have been arrived at by decreasing (or increasing) the listed county total figures by the appertaining percentages as above set forth. These adjusted county totals will, therefore, approximate the net paid average for the period covered by this report.

*"Balance in County" is comprised of the distribution in towns receiving less than 25 copies which is not identified with the towns, townships or minor civil divisions listed.

AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

End of Audit Report.

WHAT IS ABC?

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, Chicago, by its own definition is: "A co-operative association of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers for the verification of circulation of newspaper and periodical members in the United States and Canada."

It is controlled by those who buy advertising (manufacturing, merchandising and service companies, and their agencies) rather than those who sell advertising (newspapers and magazines).

COST OF ADVERTISING

Pick up an invoice for newspaper advertising and you will find that you are billed for so many column-inches at so much per inch. That's how it is billed — but that isn't how it is sold.

The price of an inch of advertising is meaningless unless you know what the paper's circulation is. When you know that you know the cost.

The cost of advertising is the cost per inch per thousand circulation. That's the great yardstick by which advertising is bought and sold from coast to coast. The national advertisers call it "the milline" — the cost per line (1/14th of an inch) per million circulation.

Now you know why ABC audits are important. They verify circulation — the factor which is combined with the publisher's charge per inch to establish the advertising cost yardstick.

IT'S CHEAP TODAY

Hope Star's local advertising costs about the same today as in 1929. The rate-per-inch is higher, it is true — but circulation also has increased. Here is the comparison:

	1929	1961
Local "open" rate per inch per thousand	20c	25.6c

And that's a performance we feel deserves a page advertisement all its own.
